HISTORY OF THE NEW WORLD CALLED AMERICA.

By EDWARD JOHN PAYNE, Fellow of University College, Oxford.

"This work will remain one of the most important, if not the most important, in the history of the New World yet published. . . . It will delight all those who take an interest in the origin of history and of civilization; it cannot be neglected by any student of American history. It is certainly a book worth reading."
Academy.

"Leads the student in a novel direction. . . . The elucidation of the subject surpasses in thoroughness and clearness anything of the kind we have ever read before."
New York Times.

"He has produced a volume of extraordinary interest, not more remarkable for its learning and force than for the extreme freshness of the point of view."
New York Times (second notice).

PUBLIC FINANCE.

By C. F. BASTABLE, LL.D., Professor of Political Economy in the University of Dublin.
8vo. $4.00.

"Is likely to be a standard work. Its literary merit, its divisions and general scope, its comprehensive and exhaustive treatment of modern regard to the controversies which are only of to-day, are but the secondary though essential elements of such a work. The higher qualities of a philosophical and practical method of treatment, and a conscientious willingness to adjust the balance of evidence, are not wanting. It will be welcomed by students of political science everywhere, and not a few men more or less prominent in political or financial life will find instruction and warning in its pages."
Spectator.

By HENRY JETSON. Large Crown 8vo. 2 vols. $4.00.

"Dr. Henry Jetson has struck a new vein in political history, and his work is certainly well done, and we think his readers will say with exultation. He assumes that among the great political agencies the Platform has hitherto been overlooked. His comments have an interest for all constitutions under parliamentary or elective government. . . . A very useful as well as a very interesting addition to political literature."
Washington Post.
